The Bakersfield Californian
Saturday, October 7, 1916

Long Beach .	2,387,643	2,040,519

Unfortunate Woman Sheltered at Jail

Mrs. Nora Lacey, whose husband was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and sentenced to serve six months in the county jail following a fight at a camp about three miles from the city, called at the jail while the rain was pouring down Friday night, and asked that she be given shelter.

Since her husband has been a prisoner, Mrs. Lacey has lived in a tent under a tree on Union avenue near the Santa Fe tracks. She has been unable to work on account of ill health, and has depended upon charity for her food.

The rains of the past few days have made life in the camp very disagreeable. The bed clothes have been soaked with water, says Mrs. Lacey and her supply of groceries has been ruined.

Sheriff Newell arranged to give Mrs. Lacey a comfortable place to sleep last night.