WATER—WATER—WATER

Wouldn't it be a good idea to begin to put in that small pumpint plant to provide water for the stock, garden and house right away before the early garden begins to dry up and give only half a crop?

Remember it does not cost anything to come down and figure with us. Of course we sell to everybody. It is not true that you have to be a member of the Club in order to buy from us at lower prices than you can get any place in Mendocino County. We believe that after we have bought goods they are ours and that we have the right to sell them for any price we choose. We do not accept exclusive agencies for goods that we cannot sell.

We can sell you the very best gasoline engine that money can build and save you money on the deal. We handle the best pumps, several standard makes. Our prices on pipe cannot be cut under and leave expenses for the dealer trying it.

We are prepared to equip you complete with an electric outfit for pumping or any other purpose.

Talking of water for the house and garden and a windmill supply, of course we could sell you the best windmill made but did you ever think of putting in one of these little gas engines. Look at the cut. It is made like an automobile engine and will run as well. It will run all day without attention. Just feed it a little gasoline or distillate. Any woman can start it. Always cool water to drink. No waiting for the wind. No expense for repairs. Come in and let us show you just how it will work. Some people tell us they would not be bothered with a windmill on the place since these engines come to town.

A QUEER VIEW OF NEW YORK.

Its Delicatessen Life as an Englishman Observed It.

You have to pay 10 cents in New York for a chicken sandwich, and then it is usually made of turkey. You pay 5 cents for a ham sandwich, and then you have no idea what it is made of. I was in the delicatessen trade in New York for three weeks, and I have my suspicions. For 25 cents you can have a club sandwich. That is made of toast and chicken-turkey and bacon, all hot and very good. It is well worth the extra expense, because the smell of the bacon disguises that of the chicken. American bacon is not good. It is nearly always sold in glass bottles, as we sell jam, which prevents its getting away. Personally I prefer its flavor to that of their chicken, because I was in a hospital once, and I hate being reminded of it.

There are as many delicatessen stores in New York as there are wine shops in Paris or tailors in the city of London. To millions of good New Yorkers the most dazzling kind of orgy is to spend the evening in a cinema theater, which costs 5 cents, and then go to a delicatessen store and have a ham sandwich. For the rest of the week they live upon dill pickles. Dill pickles are what we call gherkins, and they are far and away the most popular article of food in New York. You can get one for a cent. A really big and juicy one, which will do you for breakfast, with a bit over for lunch, costs 2 cents. The people of New York are simple and long suffering. The existence of the delicatessen store is the proof of it. In no other trade in the world can you make so large a profit with so little truth.—London Truth.

A STORY OF MANSFIELD.

The Great Actor Was Peculiar and Rather Inconsistent.

Richard Mansfield was peculiar if we believe half the things we have heard about him, but he was appreciative of favors, though he had a queer way of showing it.

"One had to be careful about helping him," said an actor who had played with Mansfield for years and who greatly admired him. "When I joined his company the stage manager told me to get up in Mansfield's lines, so to be able to prompt him if he forgot. He did one night in 'Cyrano,' and I gave him the word when he was floundering around. He took it and went on. But when he came off he gave me a terrible scolding. Never in his life had he been so insulted. Was I an actor? Did I know the ethics of the business that I, a mere support, should give the word to the star?"

"I said nothing, but waited. The very next night in the same play and almost the same scene he went up again. I stood still. He looked at me, but I said nothing. In some way he got through, and when he came off I got it again. Never had he been so insulted. One of his actors let him flounder and never came to his rescue. Did I call myself an actor? Did I know and so forth? Then I gently reminded him that he had forbidden me ever to help him again. He looked at me, grunted three times and turned and went to his dressing room."—New York Telegraph.

Disraeli and Fame.

Our note on the genius who mistook Whistler for a star hailing from the music halls reminds a correspondent of a still more weird identification. Lord Houghton told the story: "I walked with Gladstone on Tuesday, and when he left me a gentleman came up and said, 'Might I ask if that was Mr. Disraeli?' Such is fame!"

Real fame, however, was once the portion of Disraeli. Lady Dorothy Nevill recalls how Beaconsfield once told her of an encounter with a cabman. He jumped into the cab, and the driver at once opened the trapdoor and remarked: "I know who you are, sir, and I have read all your books bar 'Lothair.'" The "dizzy" heights of fame!—London Standard.

It Made a Difference.

"If I ever get hold of Binks I'll thrash him so that his mother won't recognize him."

"What's the matter?"

"He's been slandering me. He says that I beat him out of $5 in a poker game."

"Not at all. I heard the remark myself."

"What did he say?"

"He said that you beat him out of $5,000 in a wheat deal."

"Oh, well, then, I suppose it is all right. I hardly thought he was the kind of man to go around telling stories that reflected on my character."—Life.

Successful Expedient.

"I tried to sling my youngest boy to sleep," said Senator Sorghum. "but it wouldn't work. Then I told him a story, and that wouldn't work either."

"How did you get him to sleep?"

"My wife came to the rescue with one of her clever suggestions. I delivered one of my speeches to him."—Washington Star.

Spiteful.

Edith: So you are really engaged at last. I'm awfully glad to hear it, dear. Gladys: Yes, I was sure you would be. You have less competition now.—London Mail.

Dangerous to the Diaphragm.

Jack: Reggie imagines that he is a lady killer. Ethel: Well, he isn't far wrong. We girls almost die laughing at him.—Boston Transcript.

We are best of all led to men's principles by what they do.—Butler.

What's the price of a good suit of clothes?

TWENTY-FIVE dollars. You can buy our clothes for less than that—$20, $18; you can pay more than that—we have very fine clothes at $27.50, $30. But $25 is a good average price; most men who appreciate good quality and style in clothes, good tailoring and fit are willing to pay as much as $25.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx

suits at $25 will surprise you; particularly if you've been accustomed to going to a custom tailor to have clothes made to measure; more particularly if you've patronized the so-called low-priced tailor; most particularly if you're getting what you think are made-to-measure clothes at $25 or less.

You'll get all-wool fabrics; trimmings, linings and other materials of a high grade; tailoring of a very high order—the things that make a suit wear well, and keep shapely. You'll get the value of best style standards and originality of design; you'll get clothes that fit you well.

And you'll gain from $10 to $20, either in greater value at the price; or lower price for similar value.

Better see how true this is; $25 is a price you can afford, and you'll say so when you see the clothes. Better come and look at the new spring styles
