NORTH COAST NEWS BUDGET

Westport, March 21—The disciples of Isaac Walton are on the qui vive awaiting the opening of the trout season, which starts on the first of the coming month. Rods are being wrapped and varnished, the tackle and tackle of all kinds being selected, to say nothing of the old reliable barn yard hackle.

The dance at the sea side amusement hall, Ten Mile River, was well attended Saturday evening. Westport was represented.

Frank Wagner, a former resident, was renewing old acquaintances one day last week.

John Lima, the "main squeeze" at Usal, was a visitor Saturday of last week. John is as fat and saucy as ever.

A forerunner of what we are going to get between this and next November was with us Thursday—the gay and festive candidate. Van Dyke, the county tax collector, was extending the glad hand and a large amount of affability to the fellow who exercises the right of the great American citizen.

One of the sharpest shocks of earthquake felt in a long time was experienced Saturday afternoon between four and five o'clock.

Like a bolt of thunder out of a clear sky came the announcement last Friday morning that a petition was being circulated as to whether or not Westport should become dry or wet. Straightway the whiskey seller and his satellites proceeded to go up in the air and at this writing they are still soaring. The "Drys" and their adherents are more conservative. The whiskey man will tell you that he conducts his place according to the letter of the law, and that he has his all invested in the business and that it would work a great hardship to put him out of business, to say nothing of the great loss financially to the town, if it should go dry, by reason of the fellow who likes his bitters passing through to some place where he can quench his thirst and here there is no restriction placed on the liquor traffic; while on the other hand the opponents of the liquor man and his business will tell you that we owe it to ourselves and posterity to close the saloons, that they are a menace to civilization, that the day is not far distant when the whole county shall become dry, that it is the inevitable and that we must bow down and submit to it, so there you are. The result is being awaited anxiously.

C. L. Marshall, a resident of Andersonia, met with death last week by a fall from the mill dam at the above place. The coroner's inquest revealed the fact that the cause of death was accidental. Marshall was well known on the coast, having worked here and at Monroe.

Jupiter Pluvius is still with us. The precipitation for the past forty eight hours has been the heaviest this year.

The latter part of the week found three game wardens with us. For ways that are mysterious the game warden is certainly peculiar.

HAPPENINGS AT POTTER VALLEY

Potter Valley March 22—Mr. Stork has been putting in overtime the past week. He generously left twins at the Washburn home, a boy and a girl after which he called next door and left a fine boy at the Bucknell residence.

N. P. Howe has sold out his ranch adjoining town to a Mr. Hardisty of Upper Lake who has taken possession and moved on the place last week. Mr. Howe expects to make his home with his family at Berkeley.

Everybody is highly satisfied with the gentle shower of rain which has visited the valley during the week and are thereby assured of abundant crops of all kinds.

The social given at the Grange hall on Thursday night, March 17, by the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church was the largest affair of the kind ever known in Potter, there being over 150 present. After a short musical program refreshments were served including tomatoes, ice cream, cake, coffee, sandwiches etc. It was a success in every way and highly enjoyed by all present.

B. N. Springer and family left for their new home at Willits on Wednesday. On the Monday evening previous about 17 of the members of the M. E. church gave them a surprise by calling upon them in a body to say "good bye" and to express their good will and wishes for the future.

H. O. Bowers one of our enterprising merchants has returned from San Francisco where he went to buy his spring goods. He is running an up to date store and a full line of dry goods especially.

John Metzger made a business trip to Willits last week in the interest of the Irvine Muir Company.

ST JOHN'S M. E. CHURCH

Services befitting the happy Easter-tide will be conducted both morning and evening. The church will be beautifully decorated, and there will be several selections by the male quartett. The Sunday school Easter exercises will be held in the evening, consisting of songs, recitations, etc., by the classes. All are cordially invited.

Members of the Oratorio Society will please to note that Friday evening, April 15th, is the date set for giving Buck's Oratorio, The "Triumph of David." It is desired that all the soloists shall be present at the next rehearsal as well as all those who sing in the choruses.

The Christian Science service on Easter will be held at 10 a. m. instead of 11 a. m. in room 2 of the Eversole building. Subject "Reality."

Song Recital To-night

Seldom do we have the opportunity in Ukiah of hearing singers of the class of Mlle. Joseph, who is to give a song recital tonight at the Baptist church, and this will surely be the musical treat of this season. Miss Joseph is a dramatic soprano of great power and a thorough preparation, having studied with the best masters in Europe and America. The program to be sung tonight is practically the same as she has been using in her recitals in the cities and in the Greek Theatre in Berkeley. Mr. Fred Rothchild will be at the piano. The recital begins at 8 o'clock. This is not a number of the concert course.

Ladies Attention

Abe Marks just received by express the swellest line of Lingerie Dresses he has shown yet and everyone of them is being sold at wholesale cost as Saturday will be the last day of the big sale and the goods will be packed and shipped away next Monday, so now is your chance to lay in your Spring and Summer supply.

Eighteen to Twenty Dollars

s not picked up every week, but every good barber makes that. We will show you how. We will pay you while you learn. Write for circular. Address C. A. Broback, Oakland Barber College, 469 7th street, Oakland, Cal.

Next Sunday is Easter and then look out for the latest in spring hats. All the ladies are already praying that the rain may stop so that they can attend church in full millinery sway on the celebrated occasion.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shoemaker, of Hopland, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Wilson, for some time past, returned home Sunday.

The rainfall for the last storm was 2.30 inches, making a total of 28.88 inches for the season as compared with 56.29 at this date last year.

The desire of appearing clever often prevents one becoming so.
