

Publication: Brooklyn Eagle; Date: Oct 6, 1842; Section: None; Page: 2

ACCIDENT TO A MEMBER OF CONGRESS.—The Hon. John P. Kennedy, member of Congress from Baltimore, was thrown from a horse near that city on Monday last, and so much hurt in one of his hips as to be incapable of rising. After lying awhile in this painful situation, says the Baltimore American, he was happily discovered by a passer by. He was promptly succored by a gentleman in the neighborhood, and subsequently brought to the city on a litter. The extent of the injury cannot yet be ascertained, but it is feared that it may prevent him from moving about for some time to come.

A SWELL.—Silas M. Stilwell, U. S. Marshal of the Southern District, and a plagiarist of some note, recently sailed for Europe, and the following is the first official report of his doings in France, as chronicled in Galignani's Messenger:

MARRIED—On Thursday, the 8th instant, in the Episcopal Church, Rue d'Aguessan, by the Right Rev. Bishop Luscombe, in the presence of his Excellency General Cass, and before the Consul of the United States, Hon. SILAS M. STILWELL, to LOUISA CAROLINE NORSWORTHY, both of New York.

Vell, vot ov it?

OLD, BUT GOOD.—A foolish fellow went to the parson of the parish with a long face, and told him he had seen a ghost as he was passing the grave yard, moving along against the side of the wall. "In what shape did he appear?" "In the shape of an ass." "Go home and hold your tongue about it," said the parson, "you have been frightened by your own shadow."

THE The election in Maryland took place on Tuesday last, for members of the House of Delegates and seven Senators. As we are again told that the Federalists did not seriously contest it, the presumption is, that they consider themselves in danger of being flooded. They